Overview of the Role of Housing Supports in Reentry

Charles Francis, Project Manager, CSG Justice Center
Lack of affordable housing is driving homelessness across populations

• Affordable housing: housing that costs less than 30 percent of a household’s income

• Over 75 percent of at-risk renters do not receive rental assistance

• Particular challenge with the end of eviction moratoria

Many people exit the justice system into homelessness

Prior to COVID-19, over 50,000 people were entering emergency shelters directly from prison or jail each year\(^1\)

Since 2011, the number of people experiencing homelessness has fallen, while the number people entering homelessness from correctional institutions has risen\(^2\)

Most adults under correctional supervision already in the community

- Probation: 3,540,000, 54%
- Parole: 878,000, 14%
- State Prisons: 1,176,400, 18%
- Local Jails: 738,400, 11%
- Federal Prisons & Jails: 179,200, 3%

Housing Instability and Justice Involvement: A Cyclical Relationship

1. Law enforcement policies and procedures that contribute to arrest for behaviors associated with experiencing homelessness

2. Lack of stable housing viewed as a risk factor and reduces courts’ willingness to divert people from jail or prison

3. Criminal history serves as a barrier to housing, contributing to housing instability and homelessness

4. Lack of stable housing upon exit from jail contributes to supervision failure, increases risk of recidivism

Lack of understanding of true scope of problem, collaborative strategies, and investment in effective intervention from the homeless and criminal justice systems
Many barriers to accessing housing upon reentry

These restrictions are codified in state, local, and standard landlord practices

- According to the National Inventory of Collateral Consequences of Conviction, there are 1,000+ state laws and regulations impacting housing access for people with criminal justice histories.
- Many Housing Authorities have problematic look-back periods.
- Many people returning from jail/prison face significant barriers to accessing market rate housing, particularly stigma and resource challenges.

Housing’s role in successful reentry

- Less contact with law enforcement
- Reduced returns to jail
- Stability in the community
- Increased participation in community-based services

The Housing First approach

• Core philosophy: Provide housing without preconditions (sobriety, treatment engagement)

  ➢ Housing is a foundation for achieving larger goals

• Research shows increased housing retention and engagement in treatment/services¹

• Complements short-term and recovery-focused housing as part of a continuum of options

• Reduces public costs associated with continued homelessness²

Key housing types for different needs: affordable housing

- Affordable Housing: Resident’s rent set at 30 percent or less of income due to subsidies or rent restrictions

  - Encompasses tenant-based rental assistance (ex: Section 8 Vouchers) as well as public housing and other subsidized developments

  - Target population: People who cannot afford private market rent, minimal/no supportive service needs
Key housing types for different needs: housing with supportive services

- Permanent Supportive Housing (PSH): Affordable housing without time limits that also provides wraparound supportive services
  - Target population: People with high housing and criminogenic, behavioral health, or other health care needs

- Rapid Re-Housing: Individualized package of financial assistance and services to connect people to housing and establish stability
  - Target population: People needing only short to medium-term financial and other supports
Key housing types for different needs: market-rate housing

Market-Rate Housing: No rent subsidies or restrictions

- Represents most of a community’s housing stock
- Target population: People with sufficient income to afford rent and no need for supportive services
Key housing system partners

- Continuum of Care (CoC): Planning body that governs access to all HUD-funded homeless assistance in a community
  - Prioritizes people for admission via Coordinated Entry system
  - Focused on permanent supportive and rapid-rehousing

- Public Housing Authority (PHA): Municipal/regional agency administering subsidized developments and Section 8 vouchers

- Private subsidized housing: Independent providers operating additional HUD-subsidized developments
Key housing system partners (continued)

• State housing agencies
  - Can include Housing Finance Agencies (HFAs), Departments of Community Development, statewide PHAs
  - Administer rental assistance and PSH programs that can target reentry population

• Landlords: Partnership building and recruitment are essential to open up inventory to serve reentry population
Four steps to meeting housing needs: Collaborate

- People leaving incarceration touch multiple agencies (criminal justice, housing, health)
- Coordination and maximizing resources is essential
- Key actions
  - Conduct cross-system training to understand resources, constraints of each system
  - Ensure cross-representation in planning bodies, such as Criminal Justice Advisory Boards or Interagency Councils on Homelessness, including people with lived experience
Four steps to meeting housing needs: Assess

- Homelessness screening and needs assessment in prisons/jails allows a focus on highest-risk individuals and connections to housing meeting their needs

- Key actions:
  - Design and/or adapt screening and assessment tools and integrate them into prison and jail workflows
    - SCA Grantee Example: Louisiana Dept. of Public Safety and Corrections implemented a pre-release screening/assessment process before exiting prison (determining criminogenic risk, needs, and housing status), utilized HUD ESG funding to pay for case management and homelessness prevention

- Identify resources for staffing support and technical assistance via state support or social service agencies
Four steps to meeting housing needs: Connect

• Linkages between homeless assistance systems, prisons and jails, and parole and probation help ensure access to permanent housing assistance

• Key actions:
  - Establish prisons/jails as entry points to the Continuum of Care Coordinated Entry system, including establishment of data entry and referral processes
  - Build working relationships with other key housing actors
Four steps to meeting housing needs: Expand

• Given scope of need, increased supply is essential to stopping the cycle of homelessness and justice involvement

• Key actions:
  - Maximize existing resources, such as surplus land, PHA vouchers
  - Seek non-traditional funding, such as direct CJ funding or other public cost savings
  - Leverage private funding for rental assistance, landlord incentives
  - Analyze racial equity implications of proposed housing development based on available data and community input

HUD 90-day incarceration rule
Council for the Homeless

- CFTH is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to provide community leadership, compelling advocacy, and practical solutions to prevent and end homelessness in Clark County, WA.

- CFTH is the agency designated by our local COC to serve as the Coordinated Entry access point for the majority of homeless assistance programs in Clark County.

- To find your local COC lead agency, you can:
  - Check with your state’s Department of Commerce
  - Go to www.hud.gov/findshelter
  - Not all communities have coordinated entry, and some have multiple agencies that do CE for their community.
CFTH/Clark County Jail Partnership

• Began in 2016, when our community adopted the Housing First model, and our most chronically homeless clients were identified as also being “frequent fliers” at the jail.

• CCSO Reentry screens people for two criteria:
  - Were they currently experiencing homelessness when arrested?
  - Have they been incarcerated for fewer than 90 days?

• Assessments are primarily done over the phone on pre-designated days and times.

• In 2019 we assessed 149 incarcerated clients.
  - 59% of those households scored RRH
  - 38% of those households scored PSH
What makes this partnership work?

• Buy-in from all partners involved
  - Help remove the red tape that makes the process daunting or complicated.

• Prioritizing the process
  - Commit to regular and consistent assessment times.

• Establishing a consistent method of communication
  - Be flexible and find what works best for you: Over the phone? In person? Train jail staff on assessments? Or a combination?

• Build relationships across agencies—get to know your team
  - Be open and willing to find those connection points.
